Summer Savings Tips

The summer months can be filled with activities that can drain your wallet. You can still have fun without breaking the bank. Here are our top tips:

Find Free Activities: Visit your town website for a list of free or fairly inexpensive activities. Many offer fairs/carnivals, outdoor movies and festivals.

Opt for a Staycation This Year: Avoid the flights and hotels by checking out what is available in your local community. There is so much to see and do in Connecticut and our surrounding states that just requires a short car ride.

Check Out Discount Days: Many museums, zoos and aquariums offer free or discount days on days that are less crowded during the week. Visit their website to learn more. Don't forget to look for money saving memberships too!

Planning For Your Retirement

Whether retirement is fast approaching or many years away, it's important to work with a financial advisor to structure a customized retirement plan. Putting the work in now can mean the potential for less to worry about in your golden years.

As a financial advisor, I am interested in helping you arrange your finances so that you don't outlive your money. Together, we can develop a well thought out plan that can help guide you through retirement planning.
